Dear Mr Feinstein

Included is a submission prepared by two media lawyers -- Ms Amanda Armstrong and Mr David Dison -- on commission from the Campaign for Open Media.

The submission is in support of the resolution on Legal and Constitutional Considerations for a Free Media in the Transitional Period which was forwarded to you in our previous submission.

It is important to note that this is not a complete list of laws which restricts or impedes freedom of speech and expression, but only those laws which the two lawyers have been able to identify in the short term as requiring urgent attention.

As mentioned previously, a thorough study of all the laws which restrict and impede the free flow of information is currently underway. However, this study, which includes the IBVC states, will only be completed later this year.

We look forward to your reponse about when we will be able to make an oral submission to Codesa in support of the resolutions already submitted to you.

Yours sincerely

Raymond Louw
